

NetSuite Outsourcing for Early Stage and Pre-Seed Companies

In early stage funding rounds, founders need to remain completely focused on building their product or service—not thinking about the nuts and bolts of operations like paying bills and other back-office duties.

A critical tool in achieving fast growth is a software system that seamlessly adapts and changes as a company grows. NetSuite's enterprise class functionality is now available as part of an outsourced accounting package perfect for handling the back-office operations of venture- and angel-backed firms.

Simplify Your Life

NetSuite's expansive suite offers functionalities across core business functions such as accounting, project management, SCM, ecommerce, CRM and more at one low cost. No need to manage multiple vendors, systems and licenses, or manual processes.

Focus on Financial Accuracy and Visibility

When stakeholders are involved, there is no time for inaccurate or delayed financial reporting. NetSuite's real-time visibility ensures the data is always correct and available to appropriate constituents.

All the Technology Without the Burden

Spreadsheets are error-prone and not scalable but the cost of implementing a full-service financial system is far too expensive. A NetSuite outsourcing partner can stand up an account in days, run operations at a cost that is substantially lower than hiring back-office staff and add advanced capabilities on-demand.

Grow With No Constraints

As your business expands or you decide to take over more of the operations, ownership of the account can be transitioned to you seamlessly. No implementation or data migration required. This means no disruptions to your growth, focus or operations.
